Binns-Counts Community Center offers housing repair services. The housing repair program depends on outside groups of volunteers from churches, schools and colleges coming together to help where needed. The groups come for a week and stay at the "Bunk House" at the Binns-Counts Center. A fee of $250 is asked for each volunteer to cover the cost of building materials and housing at the Center.

During the week, there is personal time to visit the area, nearby Breaks Interstate Park, bluegrass music or other ways to get acquainted with the community.
